

The Japanese Gallery
requests the pleasure of the company of you and your guest at

Japanese Samurai Armour Exhibition
Opening Reception

on Friday, 6 May 2016
at 6.30pm

at the Japanese Gallery,
66E Kensington Church Street, London W8 4BY

This is an exhibition presenting the various types of Japanese suits of armour. It is an insight into the history of samurai armour showcasing how they have developed and adapted to the transition of combat history, both its aesthetics and functionality. Japanese swords as well as armour suits will be showcased at the exhibition.

RSVP is essential. However, due to the limited space of the venue, we are expecting the reservation would be fully booked quite soon. Therefore, if you are interested in attending the reception and reply to: info@japanese-gallery.com as soon as possible, we would much appreciate it.

If you have any enquiries, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

Eddy Wertheim
